

ONE FLEW OVER THE CUCKOO'S NEST

TELEGRAM & GAZETTE

ENTERTAINMENT

'Cuckoo's Nest' features

Galonek, cast shine in Stageloft staging

By Paul Kolas
TELEGRAM & GAZETTE REVIEWER

STURBRIDGE — After all its creative incarnations as a film and play, "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" hasn't

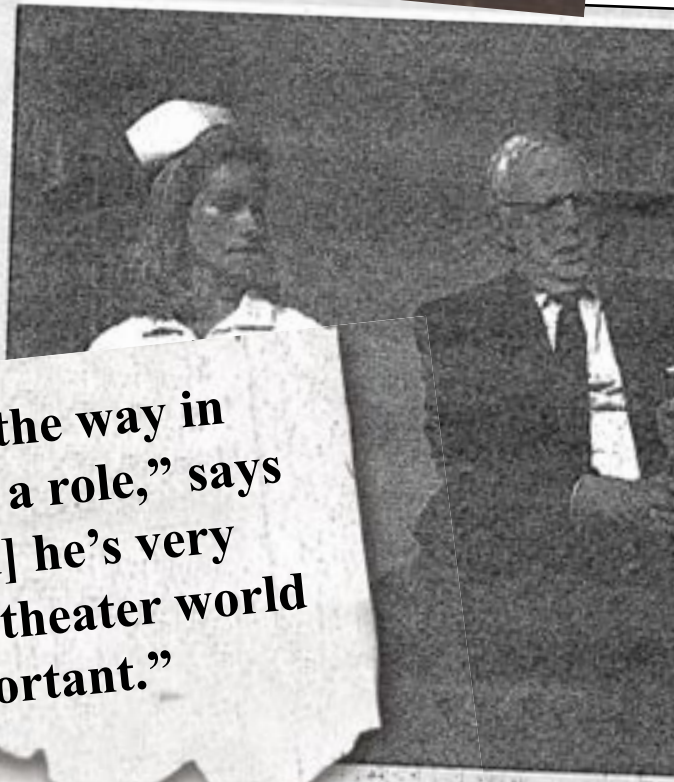

ONE FLEW OVER THE CUCKOO'S NEST novel by Ken Kesey, directed by Ed Cornely at Stageloft Theater, 450A Main St., Sturbridge, Mass., runs Thursdays and 2 p.m. Sundays through Nov. 17. Call (508) 347-9005 for tickets. Photo by Pearson, Malabar, Mass.

Crowds go Cuckoo for Stageloft play

As soon as the stage lights go down at Stageloft's latest production, it becomes immediately clear that something is different.

"[Galone is] very intense in the way in which he pours himself into a role," says Director, Ed Cornely, "[and] he's very much a team player. In the theater world where team work is so important."

C.L. SEB

ARTS
SCENE

A9 Mimi Paquette as "Nurse Ratched," Bob McCracken as "Dr. Spivey" the cheer, grace, and when... start laughing for the first time in who knows how long, it's oddly, wonderfully funny.

Dave Clark as... This is one mental hospital well worth checking into.

GARY GALONE